

Information sheet on the use of day parking cards

Appendix 4

Valid as of 1st January 2012

1 Right of use

The day parking card issued by the “Ausweisbüro” (Airport Identity Card Office) on behalf of Flughafen Zürich AG authorises the holder to the use of a parking space in the allocated parking facilities in connection with his/her professional activities for their employer company at Zurich Airport. Parking during private absences (e.g. air travel) is strictly prohibited.

The staff parking guidance system on the access roads must be observed. Any parking facilities shown as full may not be accessed or used.

If, in an exceptional case, no parking facility can be allocated or the staff has to park at an overflow parking area because the staff overflow is active, he/she is not entitled to claim reimbursement or compensation.

Day parking cards are for personal use and not transferable. They are generally valid for one year and lapse without replacement after the expiry date.

2 Use of the day parking card

Day parking cards serve to open the entry and exit barriers and are intended for one-off use (day parking cards are retained by the system at the exit). If the maximum permitted parking duration is exceeded, it is only possible to exit on payment of the public parking rate. The fee will be calculated for the entire parking duration from the time of entry.

The day parking card must always be used, even if the system is faulty, e.g. if the barrier is standing open. If following another vehicle, drivers must always wait for the barrier to close before using their day parking card. If it is not possible to use the day parking card, assistance must be requested using the call button at the entrance/exit post. No parking ticket should be drawn because the public parking rates are then payable.

If a parking ticket is drawn due to loss or damage of the day parking card or without the consent of the “Zutritt- / Parkingzentrale” (Access / Parking Control Center), the holder is not entitled to claim compensation from Flughafen Zürich AG.

There are three different types of day parking cards – "18 hours", "7 hours" and "18 hours restricted".
