Security check equipment

An experienced team of electricians is always on hand to ensure that security check equipment, such as X-ray machines, metal detectors and equipment which is used to identify explosives, are always functioning smoothly.

Benefits

- Rapid response to all issues regarding security check equipment. Our specialists are on site every day (plus 24-hour stand-by service).
- Service from a single source; from planning to maintenance and inspection
- Considerable expertise along with many years of experience in maintaining airport security check equipment
- On-site warehouse provides convenient and easy access to spare parts

- Good relationships with major suppliers means spare parts that are not in stock can be sourced quickly
- The latest maintenance documents can be viewed at any given time
- Good quality at competitive prices
- Timely and thorough maintenance helps prevent repairs and stoppages affecting equipment

Quality standards

- Drawing on extensive specialist knowledge and professional maintenance, we can ensure efficient operating security equipment which allows reliable checks to be professionally carried out

Quality control

- SAP-based maintenance plans
- Inspection based on legal requirements and standards

Specialist area

- Explosives trace detectors (ETD)
- X-ray machines for passengers’ hand baggage
- X-ray machines for passengers’ checked baggage
- X-ray machines for freight
- Liquid explosive detection systems (LEDS)
- Walk-through metal detectors (WTMD)

Services

- Advice on/engineering for the use of security check equipment at Zurich Airport
- Solving of issues, maintenance and inspection of security check equipment (except explosives trace detectors [ETD])
- Ensuring quality, functionality and availability of the technical infrastructure by means of professional and economical maintenance
- Checks based on the regulations of the regulator (FOCA)

Flughafen Zürich AG
P.O. Box, CH-8058 Zurich-Airport infrastruktur@zurich-airport.com www.zurich-airport.com